ZENO HODE AND OSCAR FAVRE OF HANCOCK HELD ON MURDER CHARGES

Now In Hancock County Jail—Charges Filed Last Saturday in Hancock County by Sheriff T. Ed. Kellar and Justice of the Peace Curet at Kiln in Beat Where Alleged Murder Took Place.

Murder charges were filed Saturday by Hancock County Sheriff Ed. Kellar with Justice of the Peace F. Curet in Kiln against Zeno Hode, 40, and Oscar Favre, 25, son-in-law of Hode, as a result of the fatal shooting of R. M. Buck, federal prohibition officer Monday night of last week.

Hode, has been at the King's Daughters Hospital at Gulfport, receiving treatment for bullet wounds thought to have been inflicted in an exchange of gun fire with Federal Agents Clayton Smith and Smith D. Robinson, when Federal Officer Buck was instantly killed, was brought to Bay St. Louis Wednesday and lodged in the Hancock county jail Wednesday afternoon, with Sheriff Kellar in charge. Hode has recovered sufficiently to be removed to this county where the murder with which he is charged was committed and where the trial will be held.

Hode, 40, and his son-in-law, Oscar Favre, 25, are both charged with the crime and held under failure to give $10,000 bonds each. Both men are lodged in the Hancock county jail.

Both men were given a preliminary hearing Wednesday morning in Biloxi before Federal authorities as a matter of form, and when both were remanded to the county jail thus turning over the charges from federal authority over to that of Hancock county. Had the killing occurred on government property or reservation it would have been a federal case and tried accordingly.

No date is set for a local preliminary hearing as The Echo goes to press. The killing occurred on the night of February 1, near Necaise Crossing, Hancock county, when federal officers surprised men alleged to have been connected with a still nearby. The raid came as a surprise.

FIRE AT COLLEGE FRIDAY

Blaze Starts in Kitchen from Electric Wire Connection—Loss Estimated $100.00

Fire was discovered over head in the kitchen of St. Stanislaus College Friday evening of last week at 8:15 o'clock, caused, it is said from a defective wire connection.

An alarm was immediately sounded and the fire department had a stream of water on the flames in exactly seven minutes after the fire was discovered, a splendid record time and which prompt, and efficient service saved the old frame building from total destruction.

It is estimated that about $100.00 damage was sustained, both from fire and water, covered by insurance. The kitchen was put in such shape over night that breakfast was served as usual the following morning.

The fire caused some excitement when it was stated over town that the college was on fire. Every response to the call of fire was prompt and efficient, thus saving much property and averting further damage than that sustained.

P. T. A. AND SCHOOL CHILDREN TO HAVE TREE PLANTING DAY

In Observance of Washington's Bi-Centennial Anniversary—Friday Feb. 12

The Parent-Teacher Association has presented the Central School with a living Xmas tree to be planted with an appropriate program in recognition of the Washington, Bi-Centennial on Friday, February 12.

WILL NOT REMOVE MENACE

War Department Without Authority To Remove Ship Wreck at Federal Expense

It will be remembered that recently a vessel from Biloxi, laden with oysters, was caught by the old Bay St. Louis ship wreck during a fog and for a week or more had a time to get away which finally was affected and not without damaging the vessel.

Commander Laurent Dickson, of Clement R. Bontemps, Post No. 159, took up the proposal of removing this menace with the government and in turn received a letter from V. L. Peterson, Lieut. Col., Corps Engineers, at Washington, in which he states the minimum of danger and that he is without federal authority to incur expense of removal.

While it is true navigation might know of this wreck hid beneath the surface of the waters of Bay St. Louis, many pleasure boats owners and others run quite a risk. It appears an appeal to Senator Pat Harrison would bring on the proper regulation or authority to remove the hull of this old lightskip.

The letter to Commander Dickson here follows in full: "The receipt is acknowledged of your letter of February 2, 1932, requesting information concerning the results of the investigation conducted by a representative from this office of the sunken lighthouse vessel, which you alleged in your letter of December 30, 1931, was a menace to navigation in the Bay of St. Louis.

In reply you are advised that the District Engineer reports that the wreck, which is said to be an old iron lighthouse vessel sunk about the time of the Civil War, lies in 7 feet of water approximately 3000 feet from shore, 1000 feet south of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad bridge St. Louis Bay, and about one mile west of the draw. Upon inquiry it was learned that during the past 40 years only two boats have come in contact with the wreck, one being a schooner which was manned at the time by inexperienced persons unfamiliar with the coast waters, who became lost during a fog while endeavoring to sail from Heron Bay, approximately 17 miles southwest of Bay St. Louis, to Biloxi.

The wreck is shown on the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey Chart No. 1268. It has been in its present position for about 70 years and is known to all small boatmen using the stream, who state they have no trouble avoiding it. Under the circumstances that wreck neither obstructs nor endangers general navigation, and consequently the Secretary of War is without the necessary authority to cause its removal at Federal expense."

Mr. Rockfeller, Sr., Sees Silver Lining

Ormand Beach, Fla., Feb. 10.—There is no further cause for worry over economic conditions—they are improving steadily.

For this you have the word of John D. Rockfeller, Sr., given in an interview during his first week about the grounds of his winter home here in about two weeks. He based his remarks on reports received from throughout the country.

Mr. Rockfeller also posed for numerous photographs. He expressed his pleasure at being out in the warm sunshine and fresh air, after what he termed a few days' confinement, necessitated by a cold.

Port Gibson Sells Eggs At Seven Cents

Public Dedication of New Hospital to Be Held Friday, February 19

Public is invited through this medium of The Sea Coast Echo to attend the public dedication of the new King's Daughters Hospital, Carroll avenue, which will be held on the afternoon of Friday, February 19, between the hours of 3 and 5.

The public will not only attend the ceremony but will be asked to visit the hospital and note how well planned and operated is this institution in our community. Mrs. E. J. Leonard, local president, will be assisted by a number of ladies.

Building will be blessed by Rev. A. J. Gmelch.

Depression Hits Weekly Newspapers Hardest, It Is Stated

It is a sad commentary that 261 weekly newspapers suspended publication during the year 1931, says the West Point, (Miss.) Times-Leader in picturing the great service rendered by the county press. The Leader comments:

According to the 1932 edition of the American Newspaper Directory, 261 weekly and semi-weekly newspapers suspended publication in the United States during the year 1931—the highest mortality recorded since the Civil War.

It is a sad story, because there is no other influence in America which surpasses that of the rural weekly press, and few communities can afford to do without a newspaper.

ATTEMPT TO BREAK OPEN SAFE

LeBlanc Safe, In R. R. Depot Vicinity, Entered by Burglar and Small Loot Taken.

The second attempt of the kind in the same neighborhood within the past few weeks, LeBlanc's mercantile store was broken into sometime during Sunday evening or night and a small amount of cash and things stolen.

It was discovered Monday morning on opening the store that the combination of the safe had been broken by a heavy instrument and the handle of the heavy door broken. It was evident the safe had not been entered, however. Experts from New Orleans examined the safe and finally opened it and found contents intact. The safe may be repaired, it was stated.

Further examination revealed that a small amount of cash had been taken as well, to what amount Mr. Vincent Piazza, assistant manager, stated could not be definitely told.

Entrance to the store was gained by breaking in from the rear of the building. From all appearances it was the same kind of job pulled off recently when Piggly-Wiggly store was entered and robbed.

Mr. LeBlanc could offer no clue nor solution to running down the robber or robbers.

172,733 People Have Visited the Frigate Constitution at New Orleans

New Orleansians hung up a new record when 22,000 persons. Tuesday visited the Frigate Constitution. This number totaled 172,733 visitors aboard the historic relic during its 13-day stay in New Orleans and surpassed the previous record held by Philadelphia, Pa., by 18,000.

Commander Louis J. Gulliver believes New Orleans will surpass the 200,000 mark before the ship leaves Thursday. He said 615,132 persons have been aboard since the ship took off on its Southern cruise, running its grand total of visitors to 1,490,430.

The Frigate will stop next in Corpus Christi, Texas, arriving there Monday.

GANGWAY FOR PROSPERITY

Prosperity is not only continuing but increasing at the Bear Brand Hosiery Mills, adjacent to the Illinois Central System tracks at Kankakee, Ill., according to the February issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. New Orders recently necessitated a 4-story addition to the factory, which now has 50,000 spindles and more than 400,000 needles in operation. Some of its newer machines average 1,000 stitches a second and finish a long stocking in fifteen minutes. This factory's shipments in 1931 were the greatest in its history, 15 per cent in excess of 1930.

SCOUTS OBSERVE WEEK

Bay St. Louis Troop, No. 208 Observe National Scout Week—Have Fine Exhibits.

Bay St. Louis Boy Scouts, Troop No. 208, of which Dr. E. J. Anderson is Scout Master, and Edw. Jones, assistant scout master, observed National Boy Scout Week with full recognition.

One of the features of the "week" is a display of boy scout craft work, as exhibited in the show window of Beach Drug Store, head Main street. This exhibit is of the boys handiwork and shows the various exhibitions of what the scouts are doing, and Bay St. Louis naturally takes an especial pride in its own troop, with a membership of 31 lads.

The past week was celebrated as Boy Scout week throughout the country.

Emphasis was placed upon the service rendered by this organization composed of the youth of the land. The aim of Scout movement is to inculcate character, which all admit is essential to success in life.

The esteem in which Boy Scouts are held is shown by these endorsements given in connection with Boy Scout week:

"I know of no other form of Americanization that so produces real Americans."—Herbert Hoover.

"If every boy in the United States between the ages of 12 and 17 could be placed under the wholesome influences of the Scout program and should live up to the Scout Oath and rules, we would hear fewer pessimistic words as to the future of our Nation."—Calvin Coolidge.

"I commend the Boy Scout movement most heartily."—Cardinal Hayes.

"I commend Scouting to Jewish boys, their parents and teachers, as a valuable discipline and program of activities in the development of boy life."—Dr. Cyrus Adler.

"Scouting has put a great principle into action; that we learn by doing; that doing a thing is the way to master it."—Dr. Willis A. Suttan, Former President, National Education Association.

"Your motto, 'Be Prepared' is the greatest factor of success in life."—Chas. A. Lindbergh.

ROTARY IS GOING UPGRADE

Meeting This Week Has Visitors; Novel Program—Speaker For Next Wednesday.

Bay St. Louis Rotary Club met Wednesday at the Oriole with another splendidly-attended meeting, including a number of Rotarians from out of town, which number included President Bernard Knost, Secretary E. A. Lang, Luther H. Barksdale, Fred Sutter and Prof. French of Pass Christian.

The speaker for next week's program is Rev. Father Wm. J. Leech, of Pass Christian, who will deliver a lecture of his own selection and since the reverend Rotarian is a most engaging speaker Rotarians and guests are looking forward to the date.

Another speaker for the near future will give crisp excerpts and comments on Shakespeare, reporting and telling of a lecture where the immortal bard was referred to as an, "intellectual ocean."

The program of this week was novel and individually affecting every member who in a measure contributed in part to the number that had been previously and originally prepared.

The travelogues by George R. Rea are always of interest and the number presented by him last Wednesday was another of the several that would go to make a valuable collection or scrap book.

Bay St. Louis Rotarians are taking as a test of the value and success of this business men's club by the 100 per cent attendance meetings, with seldom a variation. No member will miss a luncheon-meeting unless precluded from attending. The club is now in its seventh year, and has never missed a weekly meeting.

Bay High Athletic Coach Taken to New Orleans Very Ill.

Milton Phillips, athletic coach at Bay High school, was taken to New Orleans on Thursday afternoon of this week, accompanied by his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Gex, Jr., for a possible operation. Mr. Phillips has been suffering tense pains and taken to New Orleans for an X-ray examination and diagnosis and possible operation either for appendicitis or gall bladder trouble. It is planned to have Dr. Dana perform the operation.

State President of King's Daughters, Sons Appoints Committee

Mrs. A. F. Fournier, State President King's Daughters and Sons, has appointed a committee, composed of Mrs. Earl Brewer, of Clarksdale; Mrs. E. L. Trenholm, of Jackson; Mrs. R. T. Clark, of Natchez and Miss Lucy McKay of Greenwood to meet her in Jackson to appear before the Appropriation Committee relative to the appropriation for the King's Daughters Rescue Home in Jackson.

Work of the King's Daughters extends over the state and its splendid rescue and hospitalization work are among its activities so well known and which stand for so much. Mrs. Fournier is a successful leader and her work is known over Mississippi.

BAY LADY SUFFERS ACCIDENT

Miss Plunkett, Sister-in-Law Of County Attorney Breaks Leg—Taken To New Orleans

Miss Ida Plunkett, sister of Mrs. E. J. Gex, residing at the family home, Court Street, was taken to New Orleans Tuesday morning suffering from a broken leg which she sustained while at her residence, to Touro Infirmary and to be examined and treated by Dr. Denegre Martin.

It appears Miss Plunkett was walking about the house when her ankle turned and she fell to the floor. Her leg was broken above the knee and in such a manner as to make not only more painful than ordinarily but a break that will be hard to yield to treatment. Miss Plunkett stood the ordeal of removal well and reports from the surgeon in charge reported satisfactorily.

"I cannot explain the accident," said Miss Plunkett. "I was simply walking across the room and before I could realize what had happened I was down on the floor and unable to get up." Miss Plunkett neither tripped across carpet nor was she wearing a shoe that might have caused her to fall.

MAUFFRAY TO HOLD BIG SALE

Beginning Monday Biggest Slash of Prices for Bona Fide Merchandise To Be Offered.

Beginning Monday morning, February 15 and continuing for thirty days, ending March 15, Mauffray's well-known and reliable store will offer a clearance sale that for cash values cannot be duplicated. This sale is the first put on by the "old reliable" and it is going to be one in which every purchaser will get more than full value for their money. Prices have been slashed from right to left. There seems to be no reserve—simply an effort to sell the most goods in the shortest time and to give the most value for the least money.

Accordingly, some of the items are published in a three-quarter-page advertisement appearing in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo, page 6. Not only is the attention of our city readers called to this sale but also to the readers of this paper who reside over Hancock county and over the border lines of Pearl River and Harrison county. It will be with the while to make the trip.

The management of Mauffray's store says that this is a genuine clearance sale. The public is invited to call and inspect the goods and the goods and prices will speak for themselves.

TRAINING CAMPS FOR THIS YEAR

Officers for Hancock Co. Appointed for Citizens' Military Camp June-July.

Announcement has been made by Colonel W. J. Davis, U. S. Army, in charge of enrollment in Mississippi for Citizens Military Training camps, that eligible young men may now apply for enrollment in the camps which will be held from June 14th to July 13th this year.

Mr. S. J. Ingram of Bay St. Louis, has been appointed county representative in Hancock county, with Messrs. E. E. Lumpkin of Kiln and Geo. Schilling of Waveland as assistants.

Literature, application blanks, and general information regarding the camps may be obtained from the County Representative or from CMTC State Headquarters, 918 Standard Life Building, Jackson.

As heretofore, all necessary expenses incident to the camp, including reimbursement for transportation to and from camp, food, sleeping accommodations, uniform equipment, medical attendance and laundry service, will be borne by the Government.

The main purpose of the CMTC project, which was inaugurated in 1931 by Congress, is to develop citizenship, to send the boy home a better potential citizen than he was at the beginning of camp. Mornings are devoted primarily to military drill and instruction. Afternoons are given over to athletics, which are supervised by competent coaches. Late in the afternoon come parades and ceremonies. After supper come rest, boxing, dances and other forms of amusement. Church services are held on Sunday mornings.

The minimum age requirement is 17, while the maximum is 24. Where a candidate has had previous military training, the maximum is higher. The entire course consists of four years work. Upon satisfactory completion of four camps (called Basic, Red, White and Blue), the graduate is eligible for appointment as 2nd Lieutenant, Officers' Reserve Corps, subject to examination under Army Regulations. However, no further military obligation is upon the candidate upon completion of the one camp for which he is enrolled.

Accepted applicants from Hancock county will be sent to Ft. Barranas (Pensacola), Fla. This is one of the best training camps in the Army and has been the scene of many pleasant C. M. T. Camps.

The quota allowed Hancock county is 6. However, Colonel Davis announces that there is a possibility of having the quota raised, provided completed applicants are submitted early.

Bay St. Louis Legion Auxiliary Will Visit at Gulfport This P. M.

Quite a delegation, representing the Ladies' Auxiliary to the American Legion Post of Hancock County, will journey to Gulfport this afternoon where they will attend a reception to be given by the Coast units to meet Mrs. Louise Williams, of Tuckahoe, N. Y., national president, American Legion Auxiliary, who is spending today in official visit.

Arrangements for the reception of Mrs. Williams to Gulfport are in the hands of Mrs. J. C. Clancy, president of the Gulfport unit. The reception, to be held at 3 o'clock, Veterans Hospital, will follow a luncheon and drive along the coast. The Bay St. Louis and other coast units have especially invited to meet their national chief.

Mrs. Williams is the wife of Captain Frederick C. Williams, veteran of both Spanish and World Wars, and has served in various exalted capacities. The Bay unit, headed by Mrs. Laurent Dickson, president are anticipating their visit to meet this outstanding personality.

A new revenue proposal contemplating a combination 3 percent gross sales and gross income tax, coupled with a 50 percent reduction in the existing ad valorem levy, appeared to be gaining favor among taking programs at Jackson following conferences between Governor Conner and legislative leaders.

A bill for a two percent gross sales and gross income tax is already in the Senate, combined with a proposed two-mill reduction in the eight-mill ad valorem levy. A house bill was expected to make its appearance today providing for a one percent gross sales and gross income tax, coupled with a proposal to leave the ad valorem where it is.

The new substitute plan, which made its appearance last night was estimated to have the following revenue possibilities: Three percent gross sales tax, $4,500,000; four-mill ad valorem, $2,000,000; privilege taxes, $1,000,000; "nuisance" taxes $1,000,000; lowering of income tax brackets, $300,000.

With other present forms of revenue it was figured the schedule would bring in an annual grand total of $10,350,000, a figure which forecasts perhaps greater appropriation cuts than were at first contemplated.

The House Monday passed the bill to permit citizens to vote in state primaries on payment of poll taxes only. Both branches approved an emergency Senate bill for issuance of $5,905,000 in refunding bonds or short term notes by the state bond commission. Of the total $1,000,000 short term note for 90 days will be notes of renewal for obligations falling due March 1, on which holders have already agreed to extend credit.

A group of 20 representatives headed by Representative Horace Stansel asked in a concurrent resolution that the present Senate-House membership be reduced by 25 percent. It would provide for a study and report at this session.

Elimination of the agricultural station at Raymond, Poplarville, Holly Springs and in Adams county was asked by Representatives Cox, Mason and Bullock as an economy move.

HANCOCK COUNTY TEACHERS

To Meet This Saturday at Bay Hi—Prof. A. L. May To Be Principal Speaker

Hancock County Teachers' Association will meet at the Bay St. Louis High school, Saturday, February 13, 10:30 o'clock A. M., superintendent of Biloxi city schools, will be the speaker of the day. Other numbers on the general assembly program include: song led by Mrs. Carl Smith, Bay St. Louis; invocation, G. W. Hillis, Logtown; music by Bay St. Louis Municipal Band, announcements; roll call. Department meeting will follow.

In the high school department there will be a round table discussion of Motivation in High School, led by E. E. Lumpkin, Kiln. S. P. Powell, Leetown, will speak on discipline in the intermediate department. The primary department will have two discussions. Mrs. George Bennett, Logtown, leading the discussion of Primary Number Work; and Miss May Colson, Gulfview, speaking of Phonics in Primary Grades.

BENEFIT PARTY MONDAY.

The regular monthly card and Lotto party sponsored by the Little Club of Cheerful Givers, will be held Monday night, February 15th, at 8 P. M., in St. Joseph's gym.

Everybody is invited. If you don't play cards, you can play lottoes, and spend a pleasant evening.

There will be two entrance prizes. And guess what they will be? Two large home-made lemon pies—the kind mother makes. So be sure and be present. You may win one of these pies.

Mrs. M. Juden, secretary Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, has returned from a convention of Louisiana-Mississippi chambers of commerce, held at New Orleans last Friday and Saturday. She was elected president of one of the groups, and displayed much enthusiasm at the session for the proposed Louisiana-Mississippi short-cut road.

WHEN AUTOS DO NOT SELL.

IN 1929, a record year, 4,794,000 automobiles were manufactured in the United States. This figure dropped the following year to 2,910,000 and in 1931 to an even lower number, 2,040,000. In other words the automobile production of 1931 was just about half of the production in 1928 and less than half of that in 1929.

The falling off in automobile production and sales affects industry considerably. In order to carry on the automobile manufacturers use four-fifths of the rubber used in this country, one-third of the nickel, one-fourth of the lead, one-sixth of the aluminum and one-seventh of the steel and copper. In addition the automobiles consume seventeen-twentieths of the gasoline. Whenever auto sales fall off the other industries suffer as well.

According to Engineer Kettering, of General Motors, change is needed. "There is a horrible thing in this world known as monotony," says he. "When we continue to produce the same things, the same model indefinitely. . . . The people do not want to buy it. . . . We are suffering today from that thing called standardization." That explains new models, "floating power," free-wheeling, revised bodies, etc.

"The automobile manufacturers believe business will pick up, yet they realize that their industry is more favorably placed than many. As President Sloan, of General Motors says: We know we have the first lien on the purchasers budget; that the motor car is the last thing that the individual gives up. . . . My own belief . . . is that we will enjoy a somewhat better year than in 1931."

New Orleans and other places have had their Mardi Gras. The day of frolic has come and gone and regardless of tense financial condition surely no one is the worse for the "spre" of fun. It is well these events serve as occasion for mirth and entertainment, and give occasion for spending and in turn circulate money, as small as it may seem. It is a pity the general disposition is to censure people who would have a little pleasure or social diversion. There is not a class of people seeking a little relaxation from the grind of the day who are more condemned. Every reverse that might come to them is attributed to the fact that the little pleasure begrudged them in the cause. They are criticised and made the object of would-be ridicule, all seemingly petty and poor logic in the last analysis. Mardi Gras served its purpose. Other entertainment as well, temporarily relieving the hypertension of the present crisis.

Former Lt.-Gov. Bidwell Adam is enjoying a rest as a private citizen after four years of active and telling work. He says this cessation of public life, for a time at least, is welcome and he is enjoying every moment from harness. It is most probable he will run for Congress, close friends say, but for a short while, at least he is enjoying a respite from public duty. Should he run he will no doubt be elected, it is stated by those who seemingly know.

Number of people at New Orleans visiting the "Constitution," war ship has broken all records. During the stay in the Crescent City the number going aboard exceeded that of Philadelphia by 18,000. The famous frigate will visit the Mississippi Gulf Coast March 25. This should afford a better opportunity for our people to make the visit.

An advertiser offers his goods for a "price to suit your pocketbook." This is our idea of free goods.

Maybe, there are some people willing to admit, now, that the United States ought to have a full-sized navy.

The other day we ran across another citizen who makes a habit of reading these paragraphs. That makes three!

We don't know whether the country needs more money or not, but as for ourselves we certainly don't need less.

The Gulfport Herald carried an editorial entitled, "January Flowers on Mississippi Coast." All flowers are blooming on the Mississippi Coast this January of 1932.

There are some people who like to read stuff about what the groundhog thinks of the prospect for an early spring. The same folks believe the inane prophecies of the big business boys who were sure the worst was over more than a year ago.

WASHINGTON: A REAL LEADER.

THE PEOPLE of the United States have been called upon by President Hoover to observe the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of George Washington by organizing themselves in their communities for the purpose of honoring the memory of the "Father of Our Country" from February 22nd, the date of his birth, to Thanksgiving Day.

In his proclamation, the President urges us to contemplate Washington's "unselfish devotion to duty, his courage, his patience, his genius, his statesmanship and his accomplishments for his country and the world." Plans for great celebrations throughout the country have been in formation for several years under the direction of the Washington Bi-centennial Commission, created by Congress for the purpose of leading this nation in the memorial observance of the birth of its first president.

In recent years, one finds the people of this country beginning to form a saner appreciation of the virtues of George Washington, whose character was earlier obscured by a lot of nonsense written in an idolatrous spirit.

BORN in 1732, he was commissioned at the age of 16 to survey property in the Valley of Virginia for Lord Fairfax and at 19 accompanied a dying brother to the Barbadoes. At 20 years of age, he was sent by Governor Dinwiddie of Virginia to treat with the French whose fortified posts were obnoxious. Later, he was in command of an expedition against them, was surrounded in a small fort and forced to surrender.

Boys and girls of this day and generation will observe that the first president of the United States was up and doing before he attained his majority and had achieved something of a reputation at that time. He took a prominent part in the Continental congresses where his common sense took the place of oratory and superior literary ability.

Practically every school child knows of his leadership during the Revolutionary War and, while there may be some tendency to question the greatness of his military genius, one cannot deny that he established himself as a great leader of men by holding the Continental Army together in critical stages of that struggle.

His interests in life were wide and varied but it cannot be said that he was able to maintain a transcendent faith in the ultimate success of American institutions. Nevertheless, he is now, as he always has been, a beacon light to lure the ambitions of youth towards greater things in the service of one's country.

Number of divorces continue to decrease. Another virtue the optimist will find in these times of depression.

THE SHANGHAI TRAGEDY.

THE Japanese should be condemned by every civilized nation for their recent acts at Shanghai. They have proceeded ruthlessly against a non-combatant population, killing civilians, men, women and children, heedlessly and cruelly.

According to the American Consul General, Edwin S. Cunningham, the Japanese Consul General informed the foreign consuls on the afternoon of January 27th that the Chinese Mayor of Shanghai had made satisfactory reply to the Japanese demands and if these promises were carried out fighting would be avoided. Mr. Cunningham reported that this assurance lulled everybody into a sense of assurance but about midnight the Japanese soldiers launched their attack upon Chapei, a section of Shanghai.

The Japanese acted in the above in accordance with their traditional character. When they began the war with Russia they omitted the formal declaration of war and launched a surprise attack upon the Russian fleet at Port Arthur. So, at Shanghai, a few days ago, they deliberately fooled the representatives of other powers and then surprised both the Chinese and the foreigners by launching their attack within a few hours.

The Germans never conducted war, even in Belgium, is ruthlessly and as inconsiderately. So far, however, the nations of the world have not been quick to speak up in the interest of Chinese humanity. The picture of Chinese women and children forced to choose between staying in their little homes to be burned or seeking escape through the bullet-sprinkled streets has somehow failed to arouse the condemnation of the Japanese that it should.

Governor Conner has appointed Judge J. A. Breath, of Bay St. Louis, a notary public for this, Beat 5, a worthy appointment.

FOR LESS REPRESENTATION.

A REDUCTION of 25 per cent in the present membership of the Mississippi legislature, which would effect an annual saving of $50,000, is sought in a house concurrent resolution introduced in the Mississippi Legislature this week by Representative Horace Stansel of Sunflower and about 30 other signatories, is reported by the Associated Press from Jackson.

Such bill, if passed, might be sound theoretically, but what is $50,000 per annum to the State the way money is spent and taxation based in colossal measure?

This resolution, should it become law, would cut the House membership from 140 to 105 and the Senate from 48 to 38.

And yet we fought and shed precious blood of our ancestors because of taxation without representation. In the last analysis taxes would be no less, if not still going up, with many counties practically without direct representation.

We are further informed that each of the three constitutional districts would have not less than 33 representatives and not less than 10 senators, with the House membership as a whole not less than 100 and the Senate not less than 30.

Under the Stansel resolution, a joint committee of the House consisting of 8 members, one from each congressional district, and 6 from the Senate, two from each supreme court district, would be named to work out the reapportionment plan.

VIEWS OF OUR NEWS

By Chicagoan

A Review of the News of Last Week's Echo.

CHICAGO Ill. February 9.—If the groundhog, who is said to have seen his shadow in some localities, even if I failed to see mine last week, would devote part of his winter to studying the Gregorian Calendar, by which men gauge their affairs, he might select some other month than February in which to try to impress the world with his importance. Groundhog day is forgotten already, and I doubt that one out of a dozen readers are able to tell whether or not he saw his shadow. The minds of many are on Valentine's Day which has for years past been dedicated to Cupid. That little archer makes no pretense at being able to influence the weather, but 'tis well known that he has made an influence on the world and that many a war and international intrigue can be traced to his activities.

Statesmen of the past wrestled ably with the difficulties of their time and led their country out of many a tangle. But the wisest of men cannot solve the problems of the generations that succeed him. That was clearly illustrated in the article in the Echo which told of the meeting of the Coast Council of the Legion Auxiliary. There again earnest citizens coped with the questions of their day. Each age and each generation has its individual problems. The people wisely look to the great men of the past for advice and inspiration. But they must depend upon themselves for virile leadership. Leadership must come from the ranks of living men, rather than from the tombs of the dead. Many a glorious civilization of the past has flourished for a time, only to disappear because its members were no longer capable of solving the problems confronting them.

Individuals, as well as their collective organizations, have their problems as Mrs. C. W. Anderson of Biloxi can testify. Due to the skillful treatment received in the local hospital at the hands of Dr. Hampden S. Lewis, however, she is already well on the road to complete recovery. Perhaps in that peaceful convalescence, which I join countless friends in wishing her, Mrs. Anderson will sometime wish the things wrong with society could be eradicated with that certainty with which modern medicine and surgery performs its work.

Miss Martha Ann Ferguson and Sidney Shepherd Bowman of Beaumont selected Valentine season as the one in which to begin the most wonderful chapter of their romance. You see I will not say that the romance culminated in the marriage which was reported last week, for to say that would suggest that their happiness had reached its height. What we all wish the bridal pair is that their romance continues to mount through all the years of their lives and that when Time finally brings crowns of silver to their heads they may still gaze fondly on each other and rapturously declare in unison, "Where could I have found another Valentine like you?"

I could read between the lines that Mrs. F. J. Bopp's parties are always thoroughly enjoyed by her guests, so it was but natural that the one given at the Oriole Tuesday afternoon was another delight. Perhaps it was a little early in the month for decorations of little red hearts and chubby Dan Cupids, poised to let fly a shaft. But one did not need to read the report of that party the second time to know that there was plenty there to add zest and color to the occasion.

During the week just past, the white races of the world turned anxious eyes to the Orient, and the Echo commented editorially on the situation in the Far East. War seemed imminent between two branches of the Mongolians, who by the way, make up a large percentage of the total population of the world. The hope in every human heart was that the quarrel would be settled without the misery that is certain to grip the warring nations, and to follow for years after hostilities cease. Nations, like individuals, will always have quarrels. But only debased or crazed individuals commit murder in a vain attempt to settle quarrels. 'Tis said that no nation can rise above the level of its citizenry, so efforts are constantly being made to improve the moral status of the individual. The prayer of the world, when war threatens is that nations maintain the level already reached by their individual citizens.

THE WRONG BOSS.

BUSINESS is terrible. Competition is unfair. The office politicians are against me. Goodness knows when I will be out of debt. The country's going to the Dickens. You've heard it; gosh, you hardly hear anything else! "Do you think of these things during business hours?" You ask. And the answer, "Can't think of anything else!" There you have it. Working for the wrong boss!

We take the thought from the book "A Fortune to Share," by Vash Young. It's a little book, but what a precious message it carries! You can read it in a couple of hours, but you'll spend the rest of your life thinking about it and acting on what you think—that is, you will if you are worth powder and shot to blow you up.

Vash Young used to work for the wrong boss, too. He used to live on Bitter Creek, right up on Canker Bend, where Old Man Gloom has his poison plant. Vash Young used to work for Old Man Gloom. He was worrying all the time he was afraid. Did he do any business? He did; he did a tremendous business—for Old Man Gloom. But that business does not pay.

S Vash Young threw up his job and went to work for Young Man Gloom. The work has been hard, but it has been exhilarating. And how it has paid! Paid in money—paid in satisfaction, which is better than money.

He conquered fear. He conquered depression. He conquered self-pity. He says anybody can do it. He was a particularly horrible example; his entire boyhood was one of repression and inferiority complexes; his early manhood was a failure in business, a failure in home relationships, a failure in living. Vash Young was raw material for the suicide mill.

He snatched himself out of this frame of mind, this impossible attitude towards himself, his fellowmen, and his work. He fired Old Man Gloom, and took on Young Man Gloom. He armored himself with courage. A sock on the jaw brought a grin, not a groan. He picked himself up and went working. Old Man Gloom tried to get him back, but he drove Old Man Gloom to the tall timber, and then cut down the tree. Vash Young moved away from Bitter Creek. He now lives on Sunshine River, which is a beautiful stream, with no shoals, no fogs; lots doing there all the time, and all sorts of chances for the right chap.

VASH YOUNG did it; you can do it; why don't you? Old Man Gloom is the wrong boss! To think that we have to be told that!—N. O. States.

The Cow, Hog and Hen Plan

Our farmers should be interested in the following story about the farmers of the Northwest which we take from an advertisement of a banking corporation of Minnesota:

"On fertile Northwest plain and valley King Wheat has been slowly, steadily, surely dethroned in the last few years. 'The cow, the sow and the little red hen' have zoomed into first place as largest income source for Northwest farmers."

"In 1921, 17,431,000 Northwest acres in the states of Minnesota, Montana and the Dakotas went to wheat; 142 million wheat dollars went into Northwest pockets."

"This year, the same Northwest farmers, cow-sow-hen-wise, planted 1,828,000 less acres to wheat, went in for cow-sow-hen raising to such an extent that the little red hen alone will produce more than the total income of wheat."

"To one idea goes the credit for this amazing volte face—the idea of the cow, the sow and the little red hen. A decade now, unceasingly, through farm organizations, lectures, newspapers—Northwest farmers have been bombarded with this threefold production policy. In these concrete, farmer-understood terms, the corporation creed of diversification has been broadcast, with more emphasis on the finished products of agriculture (chickens, butter) less on raw materials (wheat, small grains)."

"Result: the Northwest farmer now cashes an annual check of $150 million for dairy products, $67 million for poultry, $172 million for hogs, under $50 million for wheat."

Another Fine Gesture.

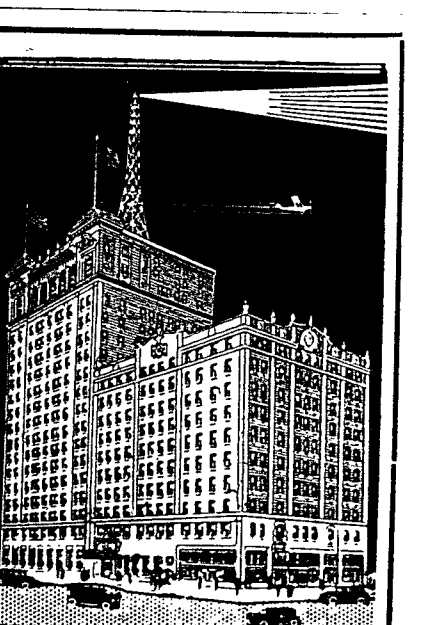

For a generation or so after the War between the States the intense sectionalism reflected itself in political campaigns, making Republican victory inevitable in many Northern and Western communities and Democratic successes in the South.

It should be a matter of gratification to the reunited country that this feeling has subsided and every act which proceeds upon the recognition of our common country is proper and commendable.

A few years ago Congress authorized the coining of millions of "Stone Mountain" fifty-cent pieces, which the Confederate memorial association sold for a dollar, to obtain funds for carving the gigantic figures of Confederate leaders on the huge rock near Atlanta.

The significant thing about this coinage was that the Government which the Southern States sought to overthrow approved the coin with its inscription, "Memorial to the Valor of the Soldiers of the South." This act had a very happy effect in the Southern States, although the completion of the huge memorial has been delayed by unfortunate differences and lack of funds.

Another noteworthy movement is the bill which has been favorably reported to the present Congress, just as a similar one was at the last Congress, to extend hospital and home facilities of the United States Government to Veterans of the Confederate Army and Navy. Its effects were properly characterized: "A gracious gesture," was the way the report characterized the bill, "signifying to all the world that all differences and dissensions of the war of 1861 to 1865 are forgotten."

SENATOR PAT HARRISON PLACED IN WASHINGTON POST GALLERY NOTABLES

Nation-Wide Newspaper Carries Picture and Sketch in "Post Gallery of Notables" and Gives Mississippian Due Recognition—Enemy of Republican Party.

Washington Daily Post of Saturday, February 6, carries the following article regarding one of the country's most outstanding men, our own Senator Pat Harrison, this being one of a series of notable men carried by this newspaper. We reproduce the text herewith:

"When Senator Pat Harrison (Democrat), of Mississippi, arises on the Senate floor and says, 'Mr. President, in his not too loud but attention-compelling manner every Republican on the floor looks up expectantly. They know the G. O. P. is going to wince under the barbed prod of Mississippian and each wants to be ready if the barb is thrust at him.

They do not have rough and tumble debates in the decorous Senate, of course, but if they did have such things unquestionably Senator Harrison would be one of the finalists if not the unquestioned victor. Perhaps Senator Harrison never has forgotten the ready tongue and quick phrasing which he demonstrated to the House in the course of his service in that body in four Congresses. When he was district attorney back in Mississippi before he came to Congress in 1910, he probably smiled witnesses into admissions they didn't want to make and left them dumb-founded when they heard him thunder his interpretation of their testimony to the jury.

The Senator may have formed an early and lasting admiration for the dashing forays of Col. Mosby and Gen. Jeb Stuart. The activities of neither won the Civil War for the South, but they certainly worried the devil out of the Yankees.

He had a running mate in the late Senator Thaddeus Caraway, of Arkansas, but where Senator Caraway was biting, Senator Harrison assumes the air of a surgeon being jovial as he goes about the process of lancing a very painful boil. He is sorry for the individual but the boil is just an inevitable consequence of being a Republican. He might be the most disliked man in the Senate were it not that his tongue never seems too far away from his cheek and his barbs are aimed at the Republican party and not especially at the particular Republican senator who, Mr. Harrison implies, really knows better but can't help but obey the commands of his party.

Senator Harrison was born in Crystal Springs, Miss., on August 29, 1881. He grew up in the town went to high school there, finished his formal schooling in Louisiana State University, went back home, married a Mississippi belle and has lived in Mississippi ever since. His home is in Gulfport. Elected to the Senate in 1918, he was reelected in 1924 and again in 1930 for the term ending March 3, 1937.

SEEK MEANS OF PROVIDING CASH FOR MISSISSIPPI

Representative Smith Introduces Bill to Relieve Plight of State Warrant Holders.

Floater Representative George R. Smith of Pass Christian has introduced a bill in the state legislature calculated to relieve the plight of holders of unpaid state warrants and provide them with ready cash. Without sufficient funds in the state treasury to redeem the outstanding warrants and what funds there is in the state's strong box impounded for the time being to guarantee "full faith and credit" on outstanding bond and interest maturing, the holders of warrants are finding themselves having to wait a more or less indefinite time.

Representative Smith's proposed enactment provides for the issuance of a state bond to the warrant holder and provides for means whereby the state bond commission may sell bonds for this purpose. The bonds which would be used for this purpose have already been authorized by the 1931 legislature.

The bill which is House Bill Number 160 has been referred to the ways and means committee and it is understood will receive a favorable report.

The title of the bill is "An act to amend Section 3 of Chapter 2 of the Laws of 1931 so as to provide that the bond commission may sell any part of the bonds authorized to be issued under said act to the holders of valid warrants of the state at par value and accept such warrants in payment thereof at their face value."

While at home over the week-end, Mr. Smith in discussing his proposal pointed out that this act would enable the warrant holders to exchange their warrants for bonds which in turn could be readily realized upon at banks or on the security market.

Against Sales Tax

Although not definitely committing himself as being opposed to the proposed state-wide sales tax Representative Smith indicated that enactment of such a measure would be detrimental to retail business in the state. He said in particular would it be an injury to business along the Coast owing to the close proximity of New Orleans and Mobile.

Sellers' School

The Primary folks are beginning their study on George Washington and are getting great pleasure from it. They are glad to have Lutenia Peterson back in school after being absent on account of illness.

The Second grade pupils have completed their Eskimo booklets and are now studying about the life of George Washington.

The Third and Fourth grade pupils have been enjoying "The Weekly Reader" for about a month. Their recent issue discussed Helen Keller's life and works which they found very interesting. This paper was supplemented by other material in connection with the study of the blind. A report was made on how the Braille alphabet was worked out by Louis Braille, accompanied by a picture of the alphabet written in Braille. Pupils of these grades have started working on the story of "Our First Flag." They are planning to do some research work in connection with this and hope to gain some important historical facts from this study.

The Fifth and Sixth grades have completed tests and all have made good grades. The Fifth grade entertained at chapel Wednesday with a short play "Firing A Maid," which was enjoyed by all.

The Evening Class for women completed the luncheon unit last Wednesday afternoon, and everyone enjoyed a plate luncheon served by Miss Brown.

The Home Economics Club girls have completed posters for health week, and will study gesso for letter holders. The first year Home Economics girls are working on the underwear unit which will be followed by the school dress unit.

Miss Sibley's piano pupils are doing good work, and are taking advantage of every opportunity to practice for the piano recital, which will be given the last of this month.

On Friday night, January 29th, the Sellers and Home Girls met in the Perkins Gym to play ball. Both sides fought a hard battle. The score was 12 to 12 at the end of the game so 5 minutes more of playing was done, but the score still stayed a tie.

In a rather speedy game played last Friday at Perkins Junior College gym, the Sellers "Flying Five" were defeated by a larger score than ever before for the past two seasons. Coach T. D. Harvill insists on heavy practice this week as the team expects to participate in a tournament at Covington, La., that is being held there this week-end. Coach Harvill and his line-up are hoping for success at this tournament.

SHARKEY AND SCHMELING
OUGHT TO DRAW
THE OLYMPIC GAMES
ODDS AND ENDS.

Phar Lap, Australia's thoroughbred, will race in the $10,000 special at Aquia Caliente, on the 21st. The Australian horse has won 36 out of 50 starts and $282,200 and is said to be after Sun Beau's record of $376,744. Good opposition is assured the Australian champion in his North American debut and in the other races that he will run in this country.

Whether the newcomer will be able to do better than other foreign invaders remains to be seen. In his own country he is considered the greatest weight-carrier in years and in the Melbourne Cup race last year, Phar Lap carried 150 pounds and drew the extreme outside position. If fully acclaimed, he ought to be able to win his first start.

The Sharkey-Schmeling championship bout in June ought to be a success if the customers have the money. Sharkey, it seems, is entitled to a shot at the Teuton who won the title on June 12, 1930 because the Boston Gob, after bewildering him with fair punches, struck a low blow in the fourth round. Of course, the fight promoters are glibly talking of a million-dollar gate but such box office booms ended some time ago. When Stribling fought Schmeling in Cleveland, there was just $350,000 in the coffers.

Sharkey is said to be in light training already but has always kept himself in good condition, taking care of himself and living something of a home life. He has fought comparatively few battles, not yet turning the 45 mark in number of fights. Dempsey has been in 79, Tunney in 68 and Schmeling in 53 scraps and it is safe to say that Stribling, Walker, Griffith and Schaaf have participated in more engagements. Sharkey has been what is known as an "in and out" fighter and has been counted out as a heavyweight contender time and again but always manages to get back in the running.

The Olympic winter games are underway at Lake Placid, N. Y., where the athletes of a score of nations have gathered to see who can win the honors in speed-skating, figure-skating, skiing, bobbing sledging and hockey, not to mention the curling and sled-dog racing demonstrations.

Incidentally word from the community tells us that the cost of staging the show will run around half a million dollars. Attendance was not promising as the games got un-

CHARM, HUMOR AND FINE ACTING. MARK M-G-M FILM

Robert Montgomery Scores As Struggling Writer of "Lovers Courageous"

Robert Montgomery and Madge Evans play the kind of romance every boy and girl dream of in "Lovers Courageous," a new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer offering opening at the A. & G. Theater, Sunday and Monday.

Penped by the distinguished British author, Frederick Lonsdale, the story exudes the sweetness of love in the springtime of life. It makes you cry, strangely enough, to see this delightful pair of lovers so exquisitely happy and contented.

Montgomery Well Cast

Never has Montgomery so expertly played a characterization, endowing his role with a tenderness that robs it of none of its humor. The Lonsdale dialogue is smart and strikingly wholesome. It lacks the ultra sophistication of his "Last of Mrs. Cheney," for example, but boasts a sentimentality we never before associated with the work of this famed writer.

It has been told that the story is partly based upon Lonsdale's own youth. Of that, of course, we have no confirmation. Very likely he, himself, would offer a denial. But if the lovely tale is purely fiction it is far stranger than truth itself. When you behold it on the screen you will want to feel that it is real, for the time being anyway.

Story Has Freshness

Of course the hero is a struggling British playwright, just as Mr. Lonsdale undoubtedly was in his youth. But whether or not he won away an admiral's daughter from a titled barrister is something else again. At any rate, it is an ideal story for the screen and brings a freshness delightful in these days of blatant sex and complexities.

Robert Z. Leonard directed the new film with rare understanding. His camera guidance has added to the inherent charm of the plot and his manner of unfolding the romance is unobtrusively compelling in sympathetic episodes. Cleverly he builds the characters into figures of reality and without missing any of the bubbling humor, brings them through the story to a heart-wrenching climax. The supporting cast is particularly impressive, offering such favorite players as Roland Young, Frederick Kerr, Reginald Owen and Beryl Mercer.

INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS

THE letter written by William Lewis to the homefolks in Glamorganshire, South Wales, Great Britain, has now had time to reach its destination. So part of Chicago's unsavory reputation has now been called to the attention of the residents of a quiet nook of the world, who perhaps had never heard of William Hale Thompson and the long-distance whack on the snoot he gave King George some little time back.

William Lewis, Welshman, migrated from his native land to Wyoming, there to secure his share of the gold he had heard was to be had for the digging in the United States of America.

After an earnest and rather prolonged try at mining, William found that he had not found gold. In fact the little store of coin he had brought with him had dwindled to about $150 when he decided to return to his native heath.

William came to Chicago with his $150 intending to buy passage for dear old Glamorganshire. But at the LaSalle Street station he met up with a sad looking individual and listened to the tale of woe. The stranger explained to William how he had lost his baggage checks and that station men demanded a deposit of $150 before they would surrender the trunks.

Mr. Lewis thought he could oblige. The stranger took the $150, saying that he'd be back with it in a few minutes.

William is still waiting, although the episode occurred a week ago. But Mr. Lewis waits not for the sad stranger. He watches each mail for the answer to that letter he wrote to Glamorganshire, explaining his plight and asking for the herewithal to bring him back to King George's domain.

Involuntary Hootchy-Cootchy.
From a magazine story—"Her hips were tremulous though she tried to smile. She wished to be firm in her position."

derway and the experts said that the townspeople would lose money on their venture. The indoor arena we are told, cost $275,000; the bob-sled run, so dangerous, cost another quarter million while the hockey stadium got by with $152,000. A few odds and ends, like the ski jump, runs the total into big money.

It is said that Johnny Buckley and Sharkey paid $12,500 for Ernie Schaa's contract and have grossed $98,000 with him. Babe Ruth thinks baseball calls for more skill and involves more luck than golf. Edward S. Farrell, who blazed a trail in the National League some years ago as a flashy shortstop, is coming back for another try this season with the Yankees.

THE RAILROADS HAVE MADE WITHOUT INTEREST A FIVE BILLION DOLLAR LOAN IN IMPROVED SERVICE

IF YOU made a loan, even a small one, and received no interest on your money, you would certainly feel that you had been treated unfairly.

The railroads of the United States have loaned the public the use of over five billion dollars, for which they have not received one cent interest in the past two years. Incredible as this statement seems, it is true. Read the following figures.

The Interstate Commerce Commission has fixed 5 1/2% as a fair rate of return for railroads to earn on the value of their property.

In 1922 the railroads had a total of $21,200,000,000 invested in property devoted to transportation purposes and earned, that year, 3.59%. Eight years later, in 1930, their property investment had increased to $26,300,000,000 but only 4% was earned on the 1922 investment. By 1931 the rate of return on the 1922 investment had decreased to 2.57% and the average for the years 1930-1931 fell to less than 3.50%. Yet, in the eight year period, 1922 to 1930, the railroads spent $5,100,000,000 for improved equipment and service. They are now rendering better service at less cost to you than they were in 1922.

In other words, the railroads have, in effect, loaned the public the use of over five billion dollars for two years, without receiving one cent interest on this vast amount.

This alarming condition has been caused by the present economic depression and has been further intensified by unfair taxation and competition from other transportation agencies.

You are vitally interested in the earning power of the railroads because of large holdings of railroad securities by life insurance companies, charitable and financial institutions.

The railroads must earn a reasonable rate of interest on their tremendous investments devoted to public use, if YOUR investments are to be protected.

This can only be accomplished by legislative relief from unfair competition and by increased railroad patronage.

You can cooperate by traveling on the steam railroads and by shipping your freight by rail.

THE HOODOO.

A comedy in three acts was presented by the Waveland P. T. A., Friday, February 5, directed by Miss Bessie Todd. Mr. John Morere stage manager.

Lee Hoodoo proved to be a wonderful artistic and financial success, the entire cast, handled their parts like seasoned troupers, and the vast audience, expressed their appreciation by applauding the various members of the cast, and was pronounced one of the best shows ever put on in Waveland. During the acts songs and dances were rendered by Miss M. Summersgill, Mr. Joe Gilbert, Mrs. E. S. Sautier at piano. The Bay Municipal Band rendered several sections and were highly applauded.

The Parent-Teacher Association wishes to thank the cast for their brilliant performance. The Bay Furniture Co., Bay Municipal Band, for splendid music and help in making the Hoodoo a success. The Sea Coast Echo for publicity. Mrs. V. E. Weber for music during the act. Mrs. C. S. Spiers who made the beautiful flowers for garden scene. Mr. John Morere for building trolleys and maments. Mrs. H. Zimmerman and Mrs. Alcide Favre for favors.

Last but not least Miss Bessie Todd who worked hard and faithfully getting the cast in shape, and she certainly should feel proud that the Hoodoo went over big.

HERLHY--HOCK

The wedding of Miss Ora May Hock, daughter of Mr. J. Hock, and niece of Capt. and Mrs. White, to Mr. Cornelius Herlhy was celebrated Thursday evening at St. Claire's church, in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends. Rev. Father Costello officiating.

The decorations at the church were carried out with the greatest profusion of white roses and palms, by Mrs. Ed. Carver. The bride entered with her father and was very lovely in a chic traveling suit and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Attendant Miss Hazel Herlhy looked lovely in her spring gown and hat to match. The groom had as his best man, Dr. B. White of New Orleans. The music at the wedding was exquisite and was rendered by Mrs. V. E. Weber at the organ and Miss Louise Armstrong violin. After the ceremony there was an informal reception at the home of the bride's aunt Mrs. Capt. White.

WAVELAND MUSIC CLUB.

On February 7, 2 P. M. the Club met at the home of Miss Margaret and Mary Clair Zimmerman. A varied program was carried out, and every one showing marked improvement during past month.

Reports were read for each student and merits were awarded accordingly. Highest average for month, Nola Rita Morere, Dorothy Hamner, Catherine Chadwick, Vivian Tucker and Yvonne Henley.

General improvement in studies Dorothy Hamner.

Miss Louise Armstrong lectured to the club, the importance of counting time in music. Next meeting will be held Sunday, March 6th, 3 P. M. at the home of Yvonne Henley.

Mr. Eugene Greenwald of New Orleans purchased the pretty bungalow on Jeff Davis and Nicholson avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Greenwald will make Waveland their permanent home. We welcome them to our town.

Miss Louise Carriere has returned from New Orleans where she attended

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

GOLD JAYS DEFEATED BY BILLOXI.

The Gold Jays suffered their first defeat this season in a well-contested game with Biloxi, in the Biloxi gym last Saturday night. The Biloxi girls however were not so sure of victory, for the score was a close one throughout the first three quarters, the lead being alternately taken by one side and then the other. It was anybody's game until the last quarter when the Squaws pushed ahead and won by a margin of six points. The final score being 20-14.

With seven straight victories and one defeat, the Jays are more determined than ever to make this a record season. They are particularly anxious to show us what a "come-back" they can give Biloxi this Saturday night.

If you want to see a good game, want to see the Gold Jays win fame, for the Gold Jays promise they'll put on a good fight.

GOLD JAYS TO MEET BILLOXI AGAIN THIS SATURDAY.

This Saturday night February 13, at 7:30 P. M., the Jays will again meet Biloxi at the S. J. A. gym in a preliminary to the St. Stanislaus game also against the Biloxi Indians. The Gold Jays wish to express their gratitude to Miss Louise Armstrong and Mrs. Lizana and Mrs. Richards who provided them with the three cars which conveyed them to Biloxi Saturday night.

MARDI GRAS.

Of course Carnival was the chief topic of conversation here as elsewhere during the past week and of the many views which can be taken of this broad topic, none held greater interest for the majority of the girls at S. J. A., than the "College dance." From the time the invitations were issued you could hear on all sides "Did you get yours yet?" With whom are you going? Aren't you thrilled? No, you couldn't possibly have refused.

The grand event has come and gone. It was "glorious," "grand," everyone had a gorgeous time and it was only with great difficulty that the girls were finally convinced of the fact that the "fun" was all over that dreams concerning it would be fruitless if not dangerous and that they just had to get down to hard work again.

BOARDS ENJOY A MASQUERADE.

The boards of S. J. A. who were not lucky enough to get out for the dance report a very enjoyable time for they also attended a ball and a masked one at that in their own gym.

Miss Ruth Taber was voted by the girls "King" of the Carnival, while ed Carnival balls, some very pretty favors were given her by the Revelers at their balls.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Levy and Miss P. Vetter have returned after spending the winter in Canada. They had a fine time, but after all they say Waveland is best.

Mayor and Mrs. Ed. Schwartz with Maud, Marcel and Dolores motored to Biloxi to visit Carnival.

The many friends of Mrs. J. O. Farror will be pleased to learn of her improvement after undergoing a serious operation.

Mrs. E. E. Sneed has returned to her home after spending some time with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Bourgeois.

Mrs. Ruckert and little son is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. John Burz.

Miss Genie Harper was elected the "Queen."

A grand procession opened the celebrations in the gym. The King and Queen being preceded by the rest of the boarders disguised beyond recognition as heralds, dukes, maids, etc. Prize swere awarded to Miss Alice Feeney and Miss Elizabeth Vincent for having the funniest and most original costume. Miss Carrie Koenen as Herald and Master of Ceremonies also obtained a prize. The court entertained with an impromptu program, card playing and dancing filled the rest of the evening, which wound up with the serving of a delightful buffet supper.

A PUZZLED SENIOR.

As I enter my chamber of dreams I behold each walk of life sparkle and beckon. They are like potent spirits silently begging me to follow some one of them. I stand puzzled to decide among so many rival claims. Shall I follow in the footsteps of my mother, brush and palette in hand, to brighten up some dreary nook? Or shall I go further and like my sister have the eventual life of a reporter? Or, say, shall I choose rather to take my ease and become a traveler? Here stands a chance to accomplish some good, some charity, and to do the work of God, as a Sister. Or shall this thought be pushed aside by the sturdy hand of business so eager to engulf many in its crowded thoroughfares? Still the thought comes again and again—Could I assume the duties of a home? And so the many rival claims pursue me—but here I am still undecided.

THEY NEEDN'T HAVE WORRIED.

'Twas six o'clock in the evening And from all through the school The books came together And assembled on a stool.

This was the time When the books were to decide Whether English, History, French, Math, or Latin Was each student's pride.

English declared that: "Of course she was the one Who the girls all liked best For wasn't she their native tongue?"

History spoke up: "English, you're entirely too sure Am I not the one Who by my tales, students allure?"

But French came to her own rescue, "You're too conceited the both of you The girls of course prefer me Don't I teach them to parlez-vous?"

Math knew not what to say How could she argue against these three? So she quietly slipped away And let Latin enter the spree.

Latin came forth And quite boldly she said: "Pupils I know don't like me Cause they say that I'm dead."

"But of course, this doesn't matter I can stand against you three For an education is not complete Till a student knows a little about me."

And far into the night These books argued thus Till a suggestion was made How to stop this fuss.

Math draws out a paper English, History, French, Latin look "The student's pride, I wonder? Is there such a book?"

WOT A BREAK!

When special agents of the Illinois Central System recently picked up Ernest Adams, a hobo, as he emerged from a car in an Illinois Central freight train at Memphis, they inadvertently made a radio broadcaster out of him, according to the February issue of the Illinois Central Magazine. Adams started jail attendants by his singing and playing upon a Hawaiian guitar. News of his talents spread, and the result was a try-out at the radio studios of WMC. Now he is free and has a regular place on the daily programs of that station.

MISSISSIPPI LAMENTS DEATH OF FAMOUS SON IN REP. PERCY E. QUIN

Congress Loses Two Leaders Within Hour of Each Other's Death—Other Items of General Interest and Personal Notes From Capital.

By Representative Robert S. Hall,
(South Mississippi Representative)

CAPITOL HALL, February 8.—Two prominent Southern House Members were forever removed from legislative circles on Thursday, February 4, when death struck twice within an hour. They were Representatives Percy Quin of Mississippi and Samuel Rutherford of Georgia. Representative Quin was chairman of the House Military Affairs committee, while Rutherford headed the Elections committee. Both died of heart ailments—Representative Quin, at the Naval Hospital, where he had been undergoing treatment for about a month; and Representative Rutherford dropped dead at his hotel while getting ready to shave.

Representative Quin, who first came to Congress in 1913, had represented the seventh Mississippi district in the House for nearly twenty years. Exceedingly affable and conscientious, he won and enjoyed during his long tenure of office the respect and admiration of his colleagues in both parties. He was an assiduous worker and devoted himself to the interests of both his district and the nation at large.

Reared on a Mississippi farm, Percy Quin was thoroughly conversant with agricultural problems; consequently he persistently sponsored legislation designed to enhance the welfare of the farmers. From the outset, he had been vitally interested in completion of the Muscle Shoals project, so that this giant storehouse of electrical energy might be efficiently operated in the interest of both agriculture and development of that section of the South. He fully understood and appreciated the possibilities of Muscle Shoals, in its relation to the cheap production of fertilizer and electric current for farm use. Hearings on Muscle Shoals were in progress at the time of his death and besides the committee was on the verge of drafting legislation affecting future operation of the plant.

Above all, Percy Edwards Quin was a good man, a good husband and a good neighbor. In commenting on his death, Speaker Garner said: "Representative Quin was one of the outstanding members, enjoying the confidence of both the Republicans and Democrats. His death is not only a great loss to Congress, his state and district, but to me. He was a loyal and devoted friend."

Immediately following announcement of the death of Representatives Quin and Rutherford both Houses adopted the customary resolutions, appointed delegates to attend the funeral services and then adjourned out of respect to the memory of the deceased members. With the official committee, of which I was a member, and the entire Mississippi delegation, except Mr. Collier who was ailing himself, I accompanied the remains of Representative Quin to his former home in Mississippi and attended the funeral rites held last Sunday at Natchez.

The death of Representatives Quin and Rutherford, as well as the illness of Chairman Collier of the House Ways and Means committee, is believed to be largely due to the rapid pace set by the present session. Faced with the acute economic depression, members of both Houses have been working at break-neck speed from the outset, endeavoring to formulate and enact legislation for relieving this condition. To avert wholesale physical breakdowns, congressional leaders seem disposed to put on the brakes, so to speak, in order to check the nerve-wracking pace.

Both Houses have approved the $125,000,000 appropriation for relieving the Federal Land Banks, $25,000,000 of which has been set aside for enabling the banks to defer delinquent farm mortgage installments, which now approximate $18,000,000. The judicious administration of this fund should greatly benefit the farmers of Mississippi and of the whole country.

Officials of The National Construction Company, general contractor for the National Veterans Home at Biloxi, have informed us that the subcontracts are now being let and that work on the excavations should begin in the immediate future.

Recent visitors included: Messrs. O. B. Eaton and W. L. Wallace of Gulfport; Holt Ross of Laurel, H. C. Dearman and son, William, of Hattiesburg; F. T. Lott of Seminary, R. L. Dent of Vicksburg; and Chauncy Camp, formerly of Hattiesburg, who is now living in New Jersey.

400 Put to Work By Pass Christian Dunbar-Dukate Packing Plant

Four hundred people in Pass Christian were put to work Saturday when the local plant of the Dunbar-Dukate Company, started operation for the season.

A fleet of twelve schooners, which had been made ready for the dredging of oysters the past two weeks, will bring in the oysters from the reefs south of Pass Christian. It is expected that the factory will operate daily from now until the close of the oyster season.

Besides employing a number of persons in the packing of oysters and the operation of the ice plant, each schooner carries a crew of five men. The opening of the Dunbar-Dukate Saturday marks the first operation of the factory in the packing of seafoods since early last year. The plant has been leased to H. Hart Chinn of Biloxi, with J. Gill in charge.

Saenger, Founder Of Theater Chain, Dies in New Orleans

Funeral services for Julian Henri Saenger, 58 years old, principal organizer and for many years president of one of the largest motion picture operating concerns in the country, who died Saturday night in New Orleans, were conducted in Shreveport, Tuesday, at 11 a. m. Interment in Hebrew Rest cemetery there.

The body was taken to Shreveport where the Saenger Theaters, Inc., formerly the Saenger Amusement Company, had its inception and where Mr. Saenger began his business career as a young man just out of his teens.

Mr. Saenger had dined with Mrs. Saenger shortly before becoming ill. He is survived by Mrs. Saenger and their adopted son, Julian Kent Saenger.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

Prunes are rich in vitamins and the valuable mineral salts. Therefore we should serve them often. Try dressing up the prunes and see how the children will eat them. Serve them not only for breakfast, but as a confection—in bread, cake, puddings and salad.

Prune Ice-Box Cake

Place 1 cup of prune pulp and ½ cup shredded pineapple in double boiler and heat. Add ½ cup sugar and 2 eggs beaten slightly. Cook until thick. While cooling, cream ½ cup butter with confectioners' sugar. Whip ½ pint of cream then add the cold mixture to the creamed butter and fold in half the whipped cream.

Pour into mold which has been lined with 1½ dozen lady fingers. Add balance of whipped cream and allow to stand 12 hours in the ice box before serving.

Prune Pudding

Beat yolks of 2 eggs and add 1 cup cooked prune pulp, ½ cup prune juice and 4 tablespoons sugar. Add 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, 1 teaspoon vanilla and ½ cup pecan meats. Stir well. Beat egg whites and fold into mixture. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven for 20 minutes. Serve cold with whipped cream.

Prune Salad Piquant

Remove pits from cooked prunes and stuff with pickled onions. Serve 5 prunes on each individual crisp lettuce with French dressing.

Prune Fritters
Boil 2 cups prunes slowly for 10 minutes. Let cool in juice, then drain. Remove pits and replace with blanched almonds. Dip prunes in batter made from the following ingredients: ½ cup flour, ½ cup milk, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon cooking oil, pinch of salt, ½ teaspoon baking powder. Fry in deep grease. Dust with powdered sugar and serve.

Prune Bars
Wash and soak 1 cup prunes two or three hours, dry and cut in small pieces. Beat yolks of 3 eggs and add 1 cup sugar. Beat whites stiff and add alternately with 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, pinch salt. Add 1 cup chopped nuts and the prunes and bake in a shallow pan in moderate oven about 30 minutes. Cut in bars and roll in powdered sugar.

HON. GEORGE SMITH GOES AFTER BUS LINES FOR TAX PAYMENTS

Says Mississippi Legislature
Says Bus Lines Should Be Restricted As Well.

Hon. George Smith, floater representative from the district of Harrison and Jackson counties, has presented a bill to the Mississippi Legislature that will curtail the operation of bus and truck line. An act defining motor transportation companies and motor transportation operators, conferring jurisdiction upon the Mississippi Railroad Commission transportation of passenger and property for hire as common carrier by motor vehicles and providing for the supervision and regulation and taxation of such motor transportation companies and for the enforcement of this act and for punishment for violators thereof.

Mississippi Gets Largest Number of Industries on I. C.

Last year witnessed the location of 120 new industries along or adjacent to Illinois Central System tracks, according to Mark Fenton, general industrial agent at the Illinois Central Magazine for February. These new industries required a capital investment of more than $3,000,000 and will afford employment to 2,734 persons. Their plants, which manufacture or distribute forty-one different commodities, are located as follows: Arkansas, 2; Illinois, 36; Indiana, 4; Iowa, Kentucky, 10; Louisiana, 16; Mississippi, 24; Tennessee, 10; Wisconsin, 1.

Restless, could not sleep

"THERE were days when I felt like I could not get my work done. I would get so nervous and 'trembly' I would have to lie down. I was very restless, and could not sleep at night.
My mother advised me to take Cardui, and I certainly am glad she did. It is the first thing that seemed to give me any strength. I felt better after the first bottle. I kept it up and am now feeling fine."—Mrs. T. R. Gibson, Fort Payne, Ala.

—Rev. C. C. Clark and son, Hardy, are visiting in Hattiesburg in the home of Rev. Clark's parents.

—Messrs. Walter J. Gex, Jr., and Supervisor Lander Neace motored to New Orleans Tuesday for the day's pleasures and Carnival activities.

—Success of Waveland P-T. A. is noted with interest. Its activities have proved of mutual interest to all concerned. Election of officers for the new year will take place in March.

—Misses Mary and Jennie di Benedetto, attractive and accomplished young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph di Benedetto, spent the Carnival season visiting friends in New Orleans.

—Already things are stirring regarding the renting of houses and apartments at Bay St. Louis for the New Orleans College set vacationing from New Orleans for the Easter week-end.

—The Woman's Missionary Society of the Methodist church will meet Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Donald Marshall. Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. E. S. Drake will be joint hostesses.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hart, on Saturday February 6th, became the proud parents of a fine baby girl. This little one adds to the already happy family of two children. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

—The printing plant of the Sea Coast Echo is complete and most modern. For a city of this size it hardly has its equal. Hence The Echo is able to take care of printing wants, and at reduced prices.

—Mr. H. T. Smith, who was called here by the illness and subsequent death of his mother, left for his home at Miami, Florida, Monday night, making the trip here by train and returning by bus. Mr. Smith visited here formerly and is no stranger.

—TAMS—Felt, Silk Knit and Brush Wood. Values to $1.50. Will go at 10c, 20c, 30c and 40c. Only 50. Ladies Spring and Summer Hats, special purchase—25c, 30c, 40c, and 60c. Only 100, come early, Saturday and Monday. The Bay Mercantile Co.

—The end of the winter season approaching, there should be quite a number of genuine bargains to be found in the various Bay St. Louis stores, especially in wearing apparel. Why not try at home before seeking elsewhere?

—The Echo learns with pleasure of the marked improved condition of Walter James Phillips, young grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gex, who has been seriously ill with pneumonia, but now able to sit up and on the high road to recovery.

—The Echo is always glad to receive communications from its readers and the public in general, particularly when the subject affects public matters, but we cannot consider any communication if the writer fails to disclose his identity, to the editor at least.

—Basketball fans will read with interest of the local games for the week-end. Saturday, February 13, Biloxi girls versus St. Joseph's Academy at 7:30 P. M. and second game Biloxi boys versus Stanislaus, to follow. Sunday 14, Holy Cross, of New Orleans, at 2 P. M., at college gym.

—Mr. Reginald N. Blaize, Jr., finished the term examinations at L. S. U., is home enjoying the recess. However, he will undergo a deferred operation for appendicitis in New Orleans this week-end. He is an excellent young man and many friends wish him a speedy recovery from the ordeal.

STANISLAUS COLLEGE ECHOES

The members of class 1932 wish to extend their sincere thanks to all those who contributed so generously to the making of their dance a success. They wish to thank especially, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. Pepperdene, Mrs. Murtagh, Mrs. Kidd, Mrs. Partridge, Mrs. Pierce, Miss Mary Weinertner, Sister Raphael and the girls of the convent.

The gym was generously decorated, quite a novelty, due to the help of the Sisters and girls of the convent. We sincerely hope that all those who were present enjoyed themselves as much as we did, and that they may look back upon it as a most pleasant remembrance.

We wish to thank also Brother Vincent for his interest as he was responsible for a great deal of the success with his guidance and suggestions.

BASKETBALL

The Biloxi Indians fell to the tomahawks of the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws last Saturday night to the tune 21 to 18. The Biloxi boys made a total of seven points in the second half, six of which were garnered in the last minute and a half. Close guarding of the Red and Black prevented any goal shooting except from afar, and these fell wide of the mark except when one Bullock, a sorrel topped Biloxian threw the ball.

Sunday afternoon Pineville came near giving the Rocks their first regional licking. The boys from across the Bay had a good eye during the first half running up 12 points to the Rocks' 10. The second half was just the opposite, the Stanislaus boys taking a commanding lead and ending up with 22 points for the half or 32 for the game while their opponents were able to gather only eleven, most of which were shot by Cunningham, a little forward who is going to give a lot of trouble to some team or teams during the tournament.

Stanislaus takes on a very busy week-end. Friday Laurel will be played at Laurel. Biloxi will be our guests Saturday night, unless it can be postponed until later. Sunday Holy Cross, old rivals of Stanislaus will be here for a return game. The dates of the Gulf Coast tournament giving all information are expected before the end of the week. Time and place was to have been fixed at an executive meeting last Monday at Gulfport.

CAMPUS GLIMPSES

Fresh from a victory over the "squaw-men" of Biloxi, fourteen Rock-A-Chaws delayed by every trouble in the motorist's catalog, sped towards Grey Castle Inn, in their palatial bus at an average speed of seventy miles (more or less) an hour. The reason for their great haste was the dance at Grey Castle, more particularly the fair dames that had gathered there.

Sad to say, our heroes never attained their goal. At a desolate spot somewhere between Biloxi and Gulfport, but far away from the latter, they encountered a group of fair damsels in distress. Knight-errant-like the gracious driver of the omnibus floored his brakes and came to a halt alongside the distressed damsels—soon there issued forth the peculiar screams and feminine guttural sounds so conducive to obtain male help—anyway, the guys who had the pullman seat in the aforesaid bus were reluctant to leave them to discover the feminine trouble—but we or rather they did soon find that their palatial bus had in front of it the car which had been unable to get any speed under its own power and we were doing a most charitable act without realizing it.

Soon, that is some fifty minutes later, the bus and its cargo sailed into the bright lights of Gulfport. More time was consumed, and so were some hamburgers and other things—the author upon repairing to the pullman-like bus was surprised to see Mr. Ray Loch all "mussed" up and not at all pleased with the enforced stay at the dispensary of gas and oil—Andrade another member of the crew course was trying his level best to calm the nerves of the said Loch but to no avail—at last the bus moved and so did we—but sad to say as we rolled past the Grey Castle the chimneys from some neighboring bell were tolling forth to the world the information that the night had safely arrived at the bewitching hour of mid-night and as we sped by the goal of our early evening dreams we blessed all good knight-errants in general but more so if particular.

BOXING

The Reserve Boxing team will do us the honor of visiting us next Friday the 20th. Negotiations are going forward for a return bout at Reserve for the 26th. Tournament dates have quite handicapped the schedule to date. As soon as these dates are announced the boxing schedule will be worked out.

—Mrs. J. C. Roland has leased the Polasek building, beach front, and same has been renovated in order she may move her business therein at as early date as possible. The gift shop has proven quite popular and successful with a local and out-of-town clientele, but a better location will not only call for increased trade but prove of more convenience to the buying public. The Roland gift shop carries an unusual line of novelties and gifts for all occasions and is an asset to the community.

BAY HIGH SPLITS DOUBLE HEADER WITH GULFPORT

Bay High split a double header with Gulfport High here Wednesday night when the Bay sextet lost 37-16, and the local boys triumphed 28-24.

The boys game was a nip and tuck affair with the Bay leading 8-7 in the first quarter, trailing 13-16 at the half and tying 20-20 at the close of the third period.

The Tigers forged ahead for the 4 point margin in the last minute of play when Bontemps rang two baskets from mid-court.

Bontemps capped the individual scoring with 17 points and Harber-son lead the visitors with 9 points.

The Gulfport girls, defending coast champions, overcame a 9-8 lead in the first quarter and had little trouble in running up their 37-16 score. Viola James was easily the star of the game and lead the scoring with 26 points. Stella Turcott played well for Bay High.

FATHER OF BUILDER IS DEAD

Eugene Garcia, of Clermont Harbor, Is Laid to Rest At Lakeshore Cemetery Saturday.

Eugene Garcia, old and highly-respected native and life-long resident of Hancock county, and perhaps better known as the father of Albert Garcia, member of the building firm of Garcia & Carr, passed away at the family home in Clermont Harbor on the morning of Friday, February 5, at 11:10, surrounded by his loved ones, and following a long-standing indisposition.

He was 74 years of age and is survived by quite a large number of grown children. His wife preceded him to the grave about a year ago. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with interment at Lakeshore cemetery, Rev. Father M. J. Costello officiating both at the house and cemetery. Mr. Garcia's death removes one of the older and best known citizens of that section of the county and his passing away is noted with much regret. He had a long and useful life and was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

BELOVED WOMAN PASSES AWAY AND GOES TO REWARD

Mrs. Julia Tyler Smith, Mother of Dr. A. P. Smith, Aged 78, Died Saturday Morning.

Reports last Thursday as doing well from an ailment of pleurisy, the condition of Mrs. Julia Tyler Smith took a turn for the worse Friday and Saturday morning she passed away a victim of pneumonia.

Mrs. Smith's sinking condition and subsequent death was quite a shock, particularly after the good news of her improvement had given so much encouragement. The body was laid out at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, with whom she made her home most of the time. The balance of the time visiting her other surviving son, H. T. Smith, resident of Miami, Florida.

Funeral took place Sunday morning when the body was shipped on the 5 o'clock train to New Orleans thence to Brookhaven, the place of decease had been a life-long resident, and the remains placed tenderly in the family burial plot, at Rosehill Cemetery, alongside the remains of her husband who died some eight years ago.

Arriving at Brookhaven the remains were taken to the Baptist church, of which faith she had been a life-long consistent member, the pastor conducting the ceremony, both at church and cemetery. Dr. and Mrs. Smith and son, H. T. Smith, accompanied the remains.

Born in the Carolinas section, Mrs. Smith came to Lincoln county when a mere child, her parents locating at Brookhaven, and where she resided ever since. She was 78 years old.

She was a most lovable woman. Her sweet disposition and ever willingness to do and to make others happy won for her many friends. All who knew this estimable woman loved her, and her passing away has not only caused sorrow but will leave a void in the minds and hearts of those who knew her best. The many and beautiful floral offerings well testified to the fact that she was so loved. Dr. Smith and family have the deepest sympathy of the community in the great loss they have sustained in their home.

WIFE OF FORMER BAY RESIDENT DIES AT NEW ORLEANS

Remains of Mrs. Achille Fayard Brought to Bay St. Louis for Interment

The remains of Mrs. Achille Fayard the latter a native and resident of Bay St. Louis for many years, corner Esterbrook and Toule streets, were brought to Bay St. Louis Tuesday morning on train No. 4 and interred in the family burial plot, Cedar Rest cemetery, Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey, conducting the ceremony.

Mrs. Fayard, was a native of New Orleans, aged 40 years, and is survived, in addition to her husband, by a daughter, Jeannette Fayard and a sister and brother. She was a daughter of the late Mamie Caron and Pierre Courret. Many attended the funeral here on arrival of the train and the last resting place was marked by many beautiful flowers, expressive of so much sympathy.

BAY ST. LOUIS INFANT DIES

Albert John Le Point, 2-day-old son of Dupre Le Point and Luella Nicaise, passed away on Wednesday, February 3. Funeral ceremony was held with Father Leo F. Fahey in attendance and burial at St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Le Point, who have much sympathy in their loss reside in Boudin Lake.

KING CHRISTIAN IS GREETED AT PASS CHRISTIAN SATURDAY

Clyde Lundy as King and Miss Abbley Queen—Greeted by Miss M. Bertrand and King. Abby of Last Year's Court

With Clyde Lundy presiding as King Christian III and Miss Hazel Abbley as his queen, the Pass Christian Carnival association staged one of the most successful balls in the history of the organization Saturday night at Grey Castle hotel.

The arrival of the royal party at 9 o'clock officially opened the ball, and the party was greeted by a large number of people from all sections of the Coast. Besides the king and queen, were Misses Anna Dubuisson, Catherine Hayden, Marjorie Knost, Myrtle Stence, Claire Knost, and Woodrow Holliman as maids, and Woodrow Benedices, LeRoy James, R. V. Abbley, Jr., John Farrell, Donald Stetter, and Fred Peranich as dukes. Elwood Abbley as King Christian II, accompanied by Miss Marie Bertrand who reigned as the first queen of the organization, presented a bouquet of flowers, in carnival colors to the queen.

The dance was opened with a grand march, led by E. A. Lang, master of ceremonies. Two dances, one by a group of three little girls Miss Mary Beth Barksdale, R. Ambler and Betty Gause, and another by Mrs. Devote Money Ackley, were given before the royal couple, and this was followed by a dance for the court. Following the three call out dances, general dancing was enjoyed until a late hour.

Miss Abbley as queen wore a white chiffon dress, studded with brilliants, and mantle of gold lace, and carried an arm bouquet of flowers in carnival colors. The maids were dressed in evening dresses in rainbow colors, and wore corsages of flowers in carnival colors.

The main dining room of the Grey Castle hotel was decorated for the occasion with palms and various colored balloons, together with the gold, green and purple colors of the carnival season.

Bay St. Louis was well represented at this beautiful function, representing both the younger and older set. Bay St. Louisians by their attendance paid homage to the royal heads and members of their court and thus joined in festivities of the occasion.

Celebration of Mardi Gras in Bay St. Louis Tuesday

Like other places of the Louisiana-Mississippi section, Bay St. Louis, too, celebrated Mardi Gras. Many visited New Orleans for the day of joy unconfined, others spent the afternoon and evening in Biloxi, where a formal celebration was held as per annual custom. And, too, many remained at home.

A day when business is practically suspended, both banks were closed for the day. Collegians at St. Stanislaus had a half day school and revelled in the afternoon.

Seniors gave their annual afternoon dance at college gym, to which formal invitations had been issued some time since. The smaller boys were taken to beautiful Lakeshore where the afternoon was a spent in picnic pastime, and, which needless to say, the smaller boys enjoyed better than anything else. All work would make Jack a dull boy, hence at the proper time and in proper places the faculty gave the collegians timely and proper latitude.

Biloxi Greets King Of Its Carnival and Stages Fine Pageants

In keeping with the historic traditions of Biloxi, which was founded in 1699 by the French explorer Pierre Lemoyne D'Iberville, that city, with Gulfport & Pascagoula joining, paid homage to King D'Iberville and Queen Ixolbi in celebration of the annual Mardi Gras, and which attracted visitors from sections of the coast, including Bay St. Louis, which was well represented at both day and night pageants and balls.

The theme of this year's celebration was futuristic. A day procession at noon marked the arrival of the king on a coast guard patrol boat, marked the early festivities, followed by a banquet attended by hundreds from along the coast. An elaborate night pageant followed by the royal ball closed the carnival.

Miss Theobold of Biloxi was queen while Hermes Gautier, well-known Pascagoula and business man, was king. Bernard Knost of Pass Christian was one of the dukes.

Glover-Perkins

A wedding of more than ordinary interest was that Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, of Mr. Cyril Glover to Miss Hermie Perkins, the ceremony taking place in the parlors of the Perkins family home on North Beach, and Rev. Father Leo F. Fahey performing the ceremony of the Catholic faith.

The couple were attended by Mr. Harry C. Glover, Junior, and Miss Ruth Perkins, brother and sister respectively of the contracting parties. The bride was becomingly dressed in a blue traveling suit, with accessories to match.

An informal ceremony to a limited number followed and Mr. and Mrs. Glover left that evening for New Orleans, where they will live in future.

Both young people are socially prominent and the marriage connects two of the best known families of this place. Both Mr. and Mrs. Glover are well-known in Bay St. Louis and New Orleans circles, leading members of the younger set and both also members of the college set.

Miss Perkins is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Perkins and Mr. Glover son of Post Master and Mrs. H. C. Glover, of Bay St. Louis.

Fischer-Fayard

Mr. George A. Fischer, Jr., of Ponchatoula, La., and Miss Emma Fayard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Fayard of this city, were married Saturday evening, February 7th, at 4 o'clock in Our Lady of the Gulf church, Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, officiating.

The bride was lovely in gold crepe with accessories to match, and carried a bouquet of calla lilies. She was attended by Miss Elsie Bilac of New Orleans who wore green and tan and carried pink carnations.

The groom had as best man, H. T. Fayard, Jr., brother of the bride. After the ceremony the couple were greeted with a wedding march played by Mrs. V. E. Weber and Miss Louise Armstrong. A reception for the family followed and the happy young couple left on an evening train for New Orleans, where they will reside.

NEPHEW OF BAY RESIDENT SUBJECT OF FATAL ACCIDENT

John R. Jaden, Jr., Is Victim Of Bullet Accidentally Fired by Financier.

Mrs. Marielouise Jaden received a message from New Orleans Thursday announcing the tragic death of her nephew, John R. Jaden, Jr., 22 years old, of 14 Richmond Place, member of a prominent New Orleans family, who was accidentally shot and killed Wednesday night by his fiancée, Miss Elizabeth Lewis, 19, of 1229 North Rampart street, and a Newcomb college graduate of last term, and traveled Europe last year, according to a report of a New Orleans newspaper.

The tragedy occurred in the Lewis home when the young woman picked up a 22-caliber rifle which Jaden had planned to clean. A bullet passed through Jaden's head and he died before medical aid could be summoned. Jaden was leaning forward tearing up some pictures of friends and separating others of him and Miss Lewis to be entered in an album and when the young woman started to hand him the rifle the butt of the gun struck the back of the davenport on which he was seated and the weapon was discharged. The bullet entered the left side of his head.

The parents of Miss Lewis were upstairs when they heard the shot. They rushed down to investigate and found Jaden unconscious. He was pronounced dead when an ambulance arrived from Charity hospital.

Miss Lewis later told Coroner Roeling and Assistant District Attorney Hertz that she and Jaden had taken the rifle on a number of outings and that it had been customary for him to unload the gun upon their return. She said that she did not know the rifle was loaded Wednesday night.

Mrs. Jaden left Friday morning to attend the funeral of the young man, the only son of the family and a favorite of all who knew him.

Famous Radio Team Visits Bay St. Louis And Entertains Public

"Bill and Bob," famous radio team and their traveling radio station—WHAN—rolled into Bay St. Louis Wednesday for a series of personal appearances and for a brief broadcasting engagement over WGCM at Gulfport. Arrangements for their appearances here were made through the courtesy of the Shell Petroleum Corporation, their sponsors.

Having broadcast their merry programs over 295 stations throughout the United States and having travelled more than 40,000 miles in their mobile broadcasting station, "Bill and Bob" claim at least two records of radioland. Their 275 personal appearances at theatres, civic gatherings and other events, establishes a third record for the popular pair.

"Bill and Bob" began their travels from St. Louis, which is general headquarters for the Shell Petroleum Corporation. Their home station in that city is KWK. They will always be found wherever there is an event of national or sectional interest. They turn up at such events as the
